Pakistan - A Strategic Crossroad for Energy

Pakistan provides an energy transit to the Central Asian region and also serves as the nucleus for the markets of China & India. Energy policies in Pakistan are currently focused on diversification of gas supplies, reconstruction of hydropower plants, construction of underground gas storage facilities, development of oil exploration & production, attracting foreign investment and privatisation of state-owned assets.

POGEE - Overview

POGEE aims at providing investors and decision makers with the most updated and current look at the varying scenarios of the Oil, Gas & Energy industry. At the same time, these key position holders get to meet their counterparts and business partners from around the world, leading to discussions for mutually beneficial deals. The event also serves as a center stage for latest in technology, equipment, machinery and allied services.

POGEE 2008

Over the last six years, POGEE has become an important industry event. The annual growth in the number of exhibitors from around the world ascertains the immense investment potential of the Pakistan's energy sector.
